Methodology

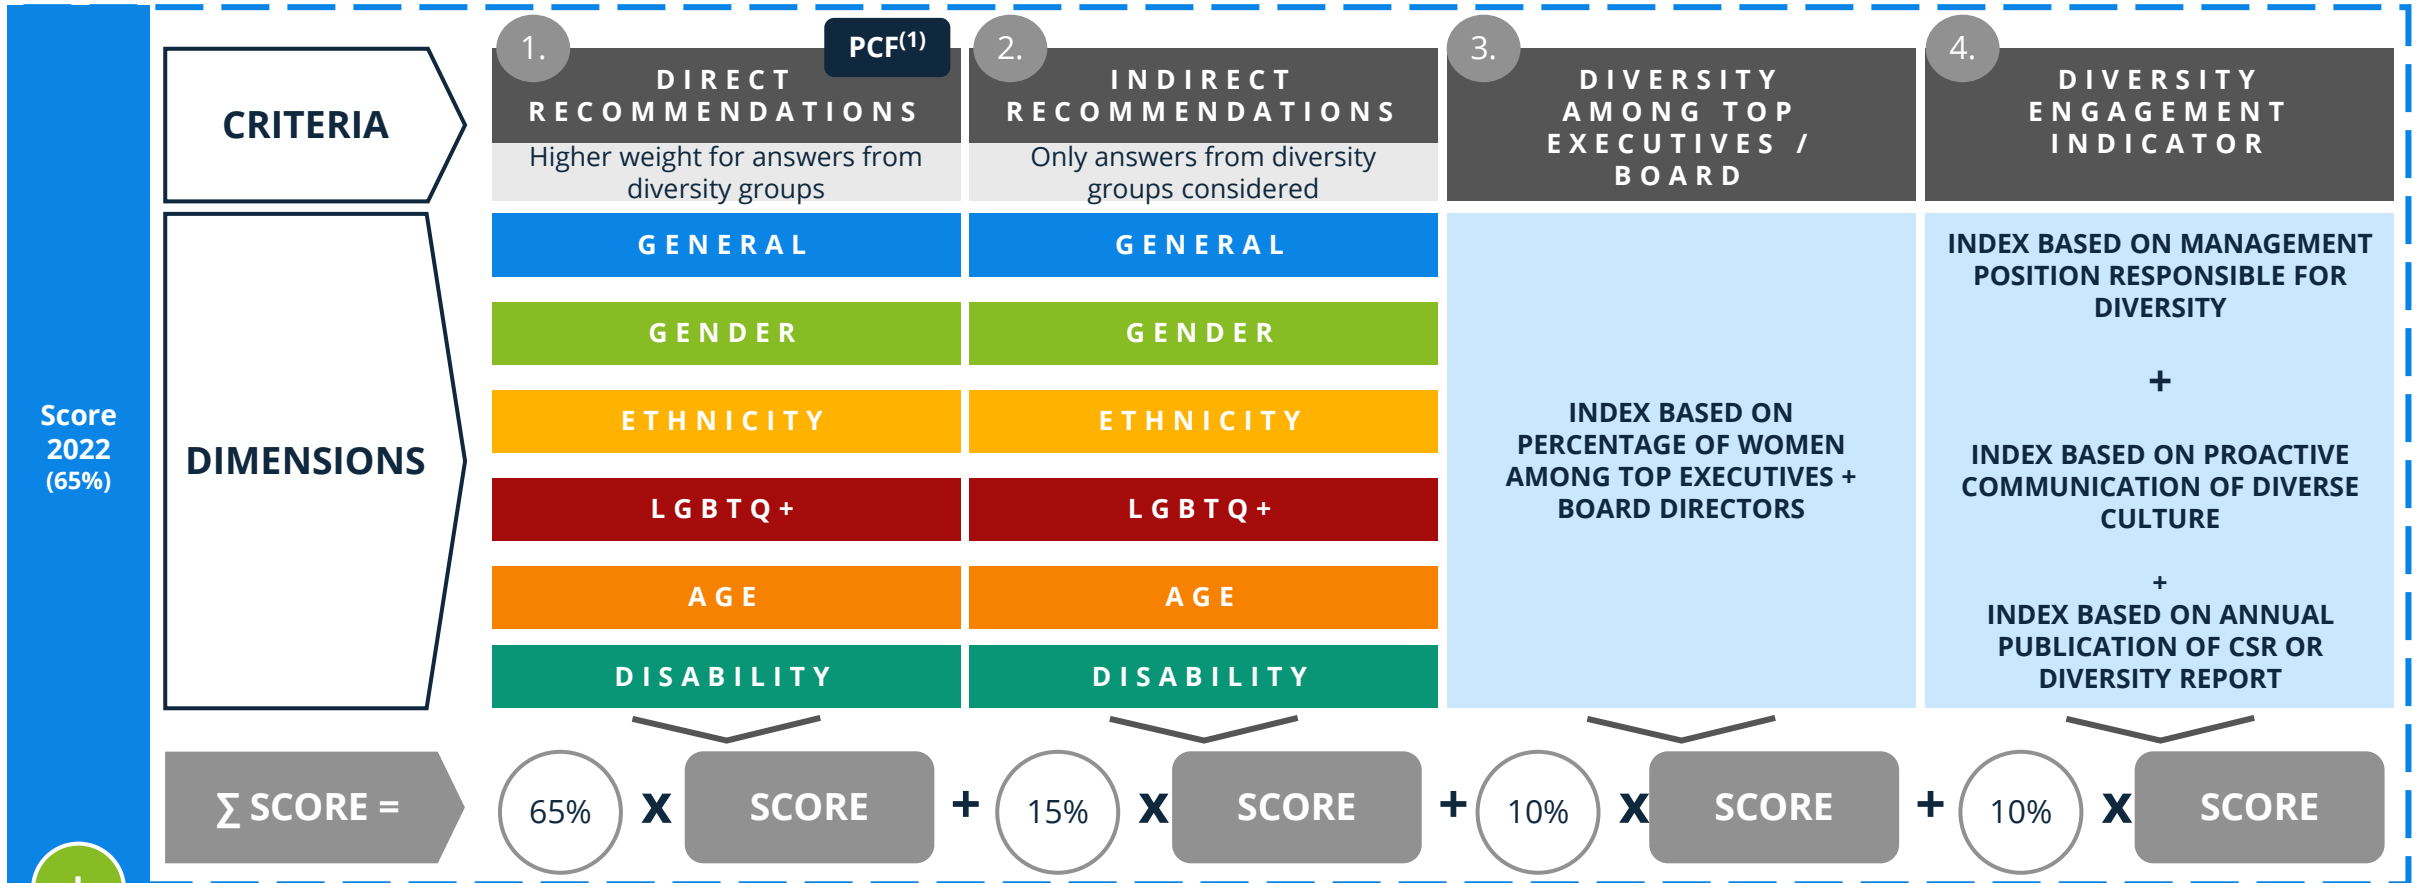

Methodology – The Best Employers for Diversity 2022

Summary

- The Best Employers for Diversity have been identified in an independent survey from a vast sample of more than 60,000 U.S. employees working for companies employing at least 1,000 people in their U.S.-operations
- The survey was conducted using an online access panel, providing a representative sample of the U.S. workforce. Each employee was asked which firm or institution he or she works for in an open-ended question and with an autofill-option. The survey was conducted on companies from all industry sectors (Government Services excluded) employing more than 1,000 employees in the U.S..
- In total the survey took an average of 8-10 minutes to complete and the survey period ran from Sep.-Oct. 2021
- The evaluation was based on four different criteria:
 - 1. Direct recommendations: The employees were asked to give their opinion on a series of statements surrounding the topics of age, gender equality, ethnicity, disability, LGBTQ+ and general diversity concerning their own employer. The rate of agreement/disagreement regarding the statements was measured on a 5-point Likert scale. In order to take the opinions of diverse groups into account, the recommendations of women, elders, and ethnic minorities were weighted significantly higher than the recommendations from non-minority groups. In addition, a perception correction factor (comparison between recommendations from minorities vs. from non-minorities) was used to adjust the score in case the rating of diversity groups deviated strongly from non-diversity groups' ratings.
 - 2. Indirect recommendations: Additionally, participants were given the chance to evaluate other employers in their respective industries that stand out either positively or negatively with regard to diversity. Only the recommendations of minority groups were considered.
 - 3. Diversity among top executives / board: Based on extensive research an index was built based on the share of women who fill top executive or board positions. Statista researched this data for each company using publicly available company information (Dec. '21 to Feb '22). For around 10% of evaluated companies this data was not available/verifiable. Therefore, a mean score across all evaluated companies was used to not negatively affect companies with out sufficient information.
 - 4. Diversity Engagement Indicator: Indicators of objective and publicly available diversity information (e.g. existence of a management position responsible for diversity, proactive communication of diverse company culture, published annual CSR and/or Diversity Report) were taken into account. Statista researched these indicators for each company using publicly available company information.

Methodology – The four criteria of the ranking

Overview

1) PCF: Perception Correction Factor; In case the mean evaluations of diversity and non-diversity groups deviated from one another, the mean score for the respective dimension was adjusted in favour of diversity responses (max. of +/- 5%).

2) In order to ensure greater consistency from year to year, last year's score (if available) was included with a smaller weight.

The calculation of the direct and indirect score is based on 60,000 employee recommendations
