

In case of order, you as the licensee receive a worldwide, non-exclusive, non-transferable, non-sublicensable license for the use of the logo for the duration of the contract. The promotional use of the logo in communication is only allowed after the purchase of the logo, but at the earliest from the date of publication. The logo may not be changed in terms of appearance or content. For the - in particular under competition law- the admissibility of the use of the logo advertising purposes your company is responsible; in this respect HANDELSZEITUNG, PME and Statista do not assume any warranty or liability. After expiration of the period of use, all rights of the licensee with regard to the use of the the logo shall expire. In the event of a license violation, Statista may terminate the license agreement without notice.